

THE EPISCOPAL DIOCESE OF MARYLAND

ANNUAL MINISTRIES APPEAL

EPISCOPAL CHAPLAINCY TO THE JOHNS HOPKINS HOSPITAL

Who We Are

The Episcopal Chaplaincy to the Johns Hopkins Hospital is a longstanding collaborative effort between the hospital and the Episcopal Diocese of Maryland. The Episcopal Chaplain, with the support of the Episcopal Committee to the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, provides emotional and spiritual support to hospital patients and their families, as well as to hospital staff.

The position also has an educational component, in that the Episcopal Chaplain is working toward certification as a Supervisor in Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE). CPE is a required educational and formational experience for ordination in many faith traditions, as well as for those who wish to become Board Certified Chaplains. The process to become a CPE Supervisor is an intensive process which can take three or more years to accomplish. Funding for the Episcopal Chaplaincy is generously supported by individuals, the Annual Ministres Appeal, as well as the Diocese of Maryland.
